

2019 House of Refuge Lecture Series

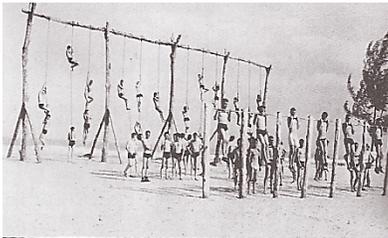

Tuesday, January 8th at 10 am

Wednesday, January 9th at 7 pm
Deborah Delucco presents The Life and History of the DuBois House

The DuBois Pioneer House and property have a long and interesting history spanning hundreds if not thousands of years of occupation. Built in 1898, it sits on the south side of Jupiter Inlet. The site of a Jeaga village, Jonathan Dickinson first described the property in 1669 with the publication of his journal. The DuBois House an excellent example of how self-sufficient South Florida Pioneer families lived and prospered.

Tuesday, February 12th at 10 am

Wednesday, February 13th at 7 pm
John Therrien presents Ft. Pierce Inlet State Park: It's Not Just Another Pretty Beach

Located on the north side of the Ft. Pierce Inlet, this property was the birthplace and training grounds of the U.S. Navy Frogmen, today's Navy Seals. Its shores were used by as many as 140,000 personnel who were stationed in the area to train for the D-Day invasion of Europe.

Spanning the Atlantic Ocean and Indian River Lagoon, Ft. Pierce Inlet State Park includes eight unique biological eco systems and offers public access for sunbathers, divers, snorkelers, surfers, canoers, kayakers, boaters, and fishermen.

Tuesday, March 12th at 10 am

Wednesday, March 13th at 7 pm

Eric Ault presents Florida Fish and Wildlife Fisheries Research

Eric Ault is the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission Research Administrator from Tequesta. Erick will discuss how FWC monitors marine and freshwater resources, wildlife, and habitats, develops and implements techniques for restoring plant and animal species and their habitats, provides technical support for oil spills and when human-related or natural disasters occur, monitors red tides, and provides technical support for state and local government and public health concerns, and provides fish and wildlife research and technical results to the state and local governments.

Tuesday, April 9th at 10 am

Wednesday, April 10th at 7 pm

Irene Arpayoglou presents The Indian River Lagoon Aquatic Preservation & Spoil Islands

Irene is the manager for the Florida Department of Environmental Protection, Indian River Lagoon Aquatic Preserves. The DEP manages seven aquatic preserves, as well as the spoil islands in them. She is going to discuss the FDEP's efforts at preservation and restoration along the Indian River Lagoon.

Ticket Information

Season Tickets: $50 for either all four morning or all four evening lectures. Tickets go on sale Saturday November 24th, 2017. Individual Tickets: $15 per lecture, space permitting. Individual tickets will be offered beginning the week before the lecture. Lectures usually sell out in advance and we cannot accommodate walk-ins. Please call before you come if you don't have a ticket.